Assassin's Run Ward Larsen 2018-08-21 USA Today bestselling author Ward Larsen's Assassin's Run revives globe-trotting, hard-hitting assassin David Slaton for another breathless espionage adventure. When a Russian oligarch is killed by a single bullet on his yacht off the Isle of Capri, Russian intelligence sources speculate that a legendary Israeli assassin, long thought dead, might be responsible. However, David Slaton—the assassin in question—is innocent. Realizing the only way to clear his name is to find out who's truly responsible, he travels to Capri. While he searches, a web of disparate events unfolds across the Middle East. Three ships, owned by the group of Russians, deliver a mysterious cargo to the shores of the Arabian Peninsula. In Morocco, a Russian aerospace company begins flight testing an innovative new drone. From Switzerland to the Red Sea to Morocco, Slaton gradually uncovers a conspiracy of monumental scope. It is a plot that will change the world strategic order—and one that goes straight to the top of the Russian government. Capri Diem Cecilia Ulla Storhaug 2018-12 A NOVEL OF 125.000 WORDS. A ROMANTIC MURDER MYSTERY. Capri, The Island of Dreams, is the dramatic setting for an intricate murder mystery with action, suspense and a cliff-hanging resolution. CAPRI DIEM is a fascinating novel about love and legacy-in life and in death.From the Norwegian author Cecilia Ulla Storhaug, a resident of the Island of Capri for thirty years, comes a beautifully written story of a local hero who pursues justice, redemption and the miracle of love. The author gives an insider's tour of the spectacular nature, the ancient historic sites and glamorous playground for the rich and famous; for artists, nature lovers, and romantics, who for centuries have been drawn to Capri's magnificent nature and the gentle hospitality of its people. The title CAPRI DIEM is coined from Carpe Diem and reflects the philosophical theme of the book. "Live every day on Capri as if it was your last, in search of joy and beauty. When you find beauty, you desire to be part of it forever." At the height of the tourist season, Camilla, a free-spirited Norwegian widow with a residence on Capri, is found dead on the craggy limestone cliffs overlooking the sea. San Francisco insurance investigator Max, still suffering from being left by his beloved wife Tara, returns to his island roots with a mission to find evidence to confirm that Camilla died by committing suicide. Camilla's two-million-dollar life insurance policy with his company has a non-payment clause in the case of suicide. The beneficiary of the insurance policy is Camilla's beautiful younger sister Katarina, who is visiting her sister on the island. With a financial motive and no alibi, since she refuses to reveal the identity of the man she was with on the night of her sister's death, Katarina becomes the prime suspect.

Malaparte. Death like me Rita Monaldi 2016-07-07T00:00:00+02:00 The Island of Capri, August 1939. Italy in the grip of Fascism, the Second World War looming. At a dazzling party under the stars mingling aristocrats, Nazi officers and American millionaires, the writer, ladies' man and Fascist loose cannon, Curzio Malaparte (1898-1957) – at that time internationally renowned – is accosted by Mussolini's secret police: someone has accused him of murder, the killing of a young English girl, a poet, who had mysteriously fallen from a cliff a few years before – a fall that actually did happen. Malaparte decides to go on the run: helped by a few trusted friends (a spendthrift prince, a Camorra man, an eccentric painter and his inseparable dog Febo) he finds himself embroiled in an impossible investigation. Who's trying to frame him? Could it be that SS officer shadowed by his bloodthirsty Doberman? And what has the terrible (and true) secret hidden in Adolf Hitler's past to do with the plot against him? Struggling to stay a step ahead of the nightmare that's bearing down on him, the writer is forced to live by his wits, depending on a charming girl with unsuspected talents and the providential assistance of an American journalist, the perfect gentleman, destined to head US military intelligence in Europe. The setting: Capri's landscapes and the house Malaparte is building atop one of the island's most spectacular cliffs. All the while, champagne corks pop, the band plays on, and Europe's high society drifts helplessly to its doom. But Malaparte won't play that game: no passive victim, he's determined to save his skin, like his mind, still painfully scarred by a war hero's wounds from over two decades before. Yet that's by no means all there is to it. Readers will soon find themselves up against far more than a mere literary fiction: the tale Malaparte is telling covers his entire past life; more than just a novel, he's responding to the challenge of a lifetime. Only at the very end shall we know if he has lived up to it, or failed. Launching Monaldi & Sorti's new masterwork. A FIRST IN ITALY, A FIRST WORLDWIDE

A huge success among readers and critics, DEATH LIKE ME won the Noir Mediterraneo prize for crime novels and was shortlisted at both the Acqui Storia historical fiction competition and the Premio Strega, the most important Italian literary award. The wife and husband team, Rita Monaldi and Francesco Sorti, have published ten books to date, international best sellers translated into 26 languages and appearing in 60 countries, including the five novels featuring Atto Melani (Pistoia 1626 - Paris 1714): Imprimatur, Secretum, Veritas, Mysterium and Dissimulatio. They also edited Secrets of the Conclaves, a secret report by Atto Melani which they unearthed in a Parisian library. The couple live between Vienna and Rome with their children. For many years, the notorious political and publishing intrigues surrounding the publication of Imprimatur kept Monaldi & Sorti's books out of Italy.

The Frederick Douglass Papers Frederick Douglass 2022-01-11 The journalism and personal writings of the great American abolitionist and reformer Frederick Douglass Launching the fourth series of The Frederick Douglass Papers, designed to introduce readers to the broadest range of Frederick Douglass's writing, this volume contains sixty-seven pieces by Douglass, including articles written for North American Review and the New York Independent, as well as unpublished poems, book transcriptions, and travel diaries. Spanning from the 1840s to the 1890s, the documents reproduced in this volume demonstrate how Douglass's writing evolved over the five decades of his public life. Where his writing for publication was concerned mostly with antislavery advocacy, his unpublished works give readers a glimpse into his religious and personal reflections. The writings are organized chronologically and accompanied by annotations offering biographical information as well as explanations of events mentioned and literary or historical allusions.

Murder on the Ile Sordou M. L. Longworth 2014-09-30 In this decadent installment, Verlaque and Bonnet find themselves hunting a murderer on a remote island in the glittering Mediterranean Sea Provençal Mystery Series #4 On-again couple Antoine Verlaque and Marine Bonnet are hoping for a relaxing holiday at the Locanda Sordou, but someone has other plans. Hoteliers Maxime and Catherine Le Bon have spent their life savings restoring the hotel, which lies in an archipelago of sun-soaked islands off the coast of Marseille. To celebrate the grand opening, a group of privileged guests joins Verlaque and Bonnet: Marine's free-spirited best friend; an aging film star, his much-younger wife, and her disgruntled son; a pair of affable American tourists; and a querulous Parisian couple. But the murder of one of the guests casts a shadow over everyone's vacation, and things go from bad to worse when a violent storm cuts off all communication with the mainland. Will the killer strike again? Like Donna Leon and Andrea Camilleri, M. L. Longworth enchants mystery lovers with a taste for good food and gorgeous landscapes in this installment of her acclaimed mystery series. "A charming read with a well-crafted mystery and characters as rich and full-bodied as a Bordeaux." —Milwaukee Journal Sentinel

Murder on the Isle of Capri Thomas Donahue 2018-02-19 Murder on the Isle of Capri THIS BOOK will keep you on the edge of your cozy reading chair: An Italian friend and colleague of Criminology Professor Marin Ryan dies in an accidental fall. The community in Genoa is devastated by the tragic end of a beloved father, grandfather, and loving husband. Marin and John Hunter are equally in sorrow as they walk down the street in the classic Italian burial procession. The wife wants Marin to finish a project her husband had been working on for their grandson—a historical book on sixteenth-century pirates. Honored, she agrees. Marin reviews her friend's notes to discover his disturbing connection between those historical pirates and three present-day wealthy families. It's a secret the patriarchs kill to keep. Was her friend's death an accident? John and Marin journey across the Atlantic and the Pacific in an attempt to know the truth. The more they find, the more they are at risk. At each stop, from Italy to New York to Hawaii and back, they are in the sights of the modern pirates. Over 1000 reviews across all book sites: 79% 5 star. Reader Review: "This was a vacation in a book." Reader Review: "This should be a movie." Reader Review: "I think I felt every kick, punch, and sword cut! LOVED IT!!!!".

The Best Films of Our Years M. Owen Lee 2007 The Best Films of Our Years is an affectionate and witty traversal of the history of the movies year-by-year by an author whose style has been called "finely crafted" (America), "highly readable" (Choice), and "often irreverently amusing" (Opera News). In the 1970s, when he was lecturing on film, Father Owen Lee was able to speak with and learn from such movie people as Pauline Kael, Robert Altman, Francis Ford Coppola, and Roberto Rossellini. In this book he provides thumbnail reviews of ten -- arguably the best ten -- movies of each year from 1935 (when he began his movie going) to the present. There is a preliminary section commenting on fifty important films that preceded 1935. And there is a closing section with longer chapters on "the ten best films of all our years", among them Grand Illusion, Rashomon, and Lawrence of Arabia. The book's title rings a change on William Wyler's The Best Years of Our Lives (1946).
